To whom it may concern,

FYI, I found the FCC website to be unhelpful in actually sending a message to you, so I have decided to write to you, instead.

I am writing to urge you to continue to allow for Internet Neutrality, so that all Americans can enjoy the same services on their computers. I think that the Internet is the same as any other Utility that helps us live our lives more easily and therefore, should NOT be up for grabs when it comes to speed of service.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

Judith Hurcomb
